The Devon Association Young Ringers were set up in early 2017 following a Devon Association committee meeting looking into 'recruitment and the next generation of ringers'. Scott Adams agreed to run a Quarterly Young Ringers Event, with wholehearted support coming from the committee. The aim was to encourage the younger generations, teens to thirty odds, to get out of their own tower environments and discover other ringers of similar ages. The focus would be on the promotion of striking as well as rising and lowering.

The first meeting was held at Drewsteignton in March 2017, with around 20 attendees. Speaking with a few new faces, they were surprised by how many people their age rang. Since then the group has met in various locations around Devon with new faces showing up every time, around 40-50 different people attending at some point. Initially the meetings were quarterly but due to the amount of support forthcoming it was agreed that these should be increased to monthly.

A few of those who regularly attend have taken it upon themselves to offer further ringing opportunities to the group. First there was a Saturday ringing outing organised by Andrew Steer around the Cadbury Deanery on the 29th September 2018. Twelve ringers went to Washford Pyne, Poughill, Cheriton Fitzpaine, Cadbury and Thorveton, where some very respectable ringing was had, even on the challenging sets. Thorveton also offered for many the first taste of 10 bell ringing.

A further opportunity was organised by John Lagdon to ring at Buckfast Abbey on Sunday 4th November 2018 following a service. This was a fantastic opportunity for many to ring at the Abbey and we were able to get 11 ringers. With the help of Paul Hext, who helped organise, we were able to ring all 12 bells and enjoyed some good ringing. A few

Young Devon Ringer No. 3. Marlon Darragh

Marlon, whom we are told is just 14 years old, is learning to ring at St. Winifred's Church, Branscombe in East Devon. Tower Captain John Bass is teaching Marlon who has now been ringing for about 12 months. John is teaching him on the treble bell. Apparently Marlon has always been musically inclined; something which first became apparent when he learnt to play the recorder at school. It was mum, Amanda, who first saw an advertisement in the parish newsletter calling for new bellringers and suggested to Marlon that he give ringing a try. She was somewhat surprised when he immediately agreed. Well 12 months on and he continues to receive instruction from Captain John. However, he has made such good progress that he was able to ring rounds with the rest of the team on Remembrance Sunday 11th November 2018 marking also the 100th Anniversary of the Ending of WW1. Marlon signed up to the Central Council's "Ringing Remembers" campaign and just a few days before 11th November received his badge which he is shown wearing in the group photograph.

Congratulations Marlon on behalf of all ringers across Devon for all that you have achieved in your ringing career so far. How many young people of your age can safely say they Belated congratulations to all those towers, both Association and Guild, who rang on Remembrance Sunday 2018 for the Centenary Anniversary of the ending of WW1. The Central Council of Church Bell Ringers sought to recruit 1400 new ringers in an attempt to replace those who fell in the First World War. In the end the Central Council estimated that the recruitment campaign yielded 2792 new ringers – close to 200% of the original target. The contribution which ringers made to the Centenary Anniversary is contained in a letter sent out by Christopher O'Mahony, President of the Central Council. Part of his letter contains the following statement. "As bellringers, we are the 'external choir' that calls out across time and space, giving tribute on this day for those who have gone before. This is what we do, this is our calling, this is our service." What a wonderful way of summing up our mission.

Following on from Remembrance Sunday the Devon Bellringers' Carol Service took place in the wonderful setting of Buckfast Abbey on Sunday 9th December. The service was led by Fr. Christopher Delaney O.S.B. The music was led by the Bell Ringers' Choir under their conductor Mr. Ian Avery. There were outstanding performances by the Exeter Cathedral

Handbell Ringers who rang a peal of 'Norwich Surprise Royal' and Lamerton Handbell Ringers who rang the 'Queen's peal'. The Bidding Prayer was read by Rev. Deacon Lester Yeo. Approximately 400 people attended the service. The proceeds from the collection were donated to the Abbey's Millennium fund (which includes Devon Hospices). We have so much to thank Ian for. He works so hard each year organising what has now become a significant annual event. On behalf of all who attended – thank you Ian. If you missed the last one make a note of the next – Saturday 7th December 2019 at Exeter Cathedral starting at 3.00 p.m.

My grateful thanks to all those who have taken the trouble to contribute to this edition, an edition which contains the very first "Letter to the Editor". I am always grateful to the small group of helpers who regularly and reliably help with the process of packaging and distributing the magazine; thank you all.

I look forward to meeting as many of you as possible during the year. Probably on one of those warm summer afternoons with the bells pealing in the background!

Armistice Ringing and Ringing for Peace at Whimble

The centenary was important to many and the church was full to bursting with extra seating needed. With the cubs and scouts at the front, we also had silhouettes marking the 'There but not there' project. The History Society had mounted an informative display about the men from the Village and immediate surroundings, their families and former occupations.

The attached photograph shows the morning band as they gather for the half muffled call change peal rung for our village Remembrance Parade.

Our Service of Remembrance takes place in the morning, around the two minutes silence, and therefore does not end until about noon. As in most places on this day people linger and chat and reminisce. A seemly interval was thought appropriate before the further marking of the Armistice – Ringing for Peace and Ringing Remembers.

Consequently, Ringing for Peace was marked by call change peal rung open at 7:05 in concert with so many other towers across the county, the nation and the world.

The second photo is the band after ringing an open call change peal in the evening from 7:05 initially associated with Ringing Remembered, just as much Ringing for Peace.

We had the Video Link to the Bells switched on all the week culminating on Armistice Day, with the Devon Bells Newsletter open at the tribute to Devon's Ringers who fell in the Great War.

We feel the day went well and our ringers served the village well.

Forthcoming Marriage

Samuel Christopher Massey will marry Jade Alicia Gall on Saturday 13th April 2019 at the Church of St. Mary & St. Gabriel, Stoke Gabriel. Sam, a musician, is a well known ringer who rings regularly at Stoke Gabriel. Jade, also a musician, is a ringer and rings at Lamerton. The Wedding Ceremony is scheduled for 12 p.m. Bellringing will take place before and after the ceremony.

We wish Sam and Jade a happy and healthy future together.

Letter to the Editor

"You can't get ringers nowadays"

We've heard it all before, but what has really wound me up is that after the AGM it came from the lips of people who should be trying to do something about it; committee members. In the past tower bands would naturally obtain membership through healthy congregation numbers. The graph below shows a decline by half in Anglican congregations, therefore I agree that we are bound to have that reduced natural audience. But you do not have to go to church to be a ringer! That is the message that we need to relay in our recruitment.

We as an Association aim to promote the ringing for divine service, but no one's arm is behind their back to stay for service. Therefore, we cannot sit back and expect new recruits to just walk through the door, and the focus should not always be on competitive ringing. It has shown that teams that did very well in the past spent very little time recruiting and now there is nothing to show for it.

When I started going to Sampford Courtenay with my now wife Nicola, the late Chris Clayton was the perfect example of how to get new recruits into the tower. At any village event he would be heard saying "When are you going to learn to ring?", down the pub "When are you going to learn to ring?", anyone new to the village "When are you going to learn to ring?". Unfortunately, he is unable to see the benefits of his work but we have 14 members who were in one way or another influenced by his captaincy. The work still continues with two current recruits.

Another example is Jonathan Bint at Chagford. Unfortunately, shortly after the rehang project we lost the backbone of the band. Three have gone to university, two developed medical problems which prevented them from continuing and two moved further away. I find myself that I don't get there as much as I should since moving. All of a sudden the tower found itself in a difficult situation. Jonathan however has seen the new bells as the perfect chance to train up a new band. Since the rehang we have 5 new youngsters, around 11 – 15yrs, 7 new adults and two returning ringers. All through engaging with the school and the community.

A third example from the Okehampton Deanery is Hatherleigh. Whenever I've been there on a Wednesday evening there have always been new faces learning, and the evenings are geared towards getting them ringing with the band. Again, that has come from Richard Harrison and Mark Wonnacott engaging the community.

Clearly there are people out there who are interested in ringing or want to know more about what is involved. What the message should be from the committee members is "how can we help you?" If you need new ringers but are unsure of the best way to recruit or have recruits but need help training then ask your Deanery representative to the committee for help – it is what we are there for.

A Very Special Occasion at Bishopsteignton

Roger and daughter Rachel

Roger Avery, who lives and rings at Bishopsteignton, learnt to ring there about fifteen years ago after retiring to the village from a career as a lecturer at the University of Bristol. His father, Fred Avery, had also been a ringer. Fred learnt in Stonehouse, Plymouth, at the 12cwt eight lost to German bombing in 1941, before moving to Somerset in 1938 where he rang at St George's, Wilton, in Taunton. It was his father's lifelong love of ringing that inspired Roger to take up the exercise after he retired although sadly their ringing careers didn't overlap, and they never rang together.

In October Roger contacted me to see if we could ring sixty on thirds on our next Bishopsteignton practice night in memory of his grandfather, Frederick Avery. Frederick, who served in the Devonshire Regiment, died on 19th October 1918 from injuries sustained at the Somme. Roger mentioned in passing that his daughter Rachel, who lives in Scotland and has herself learnt to ring in the last couple of years, was also going to ring in memory of Frederick, but that she would be ringing the tenor behind for a method quarter peal in her home tower of Inverness. Bishopsteignton is a Devon Association tower and we exclusively ring call-changes, but I tentatively asked Roger if perhaps he'd like to also ring the tenor behind for a quarter peal so that both he and his daughter could achieve the same feat in memory of Frederick. To his credit Roger was extremely enthusiastic about the idea and so we assembled a band to attempt the quarter peal on the closest date we could to the 100th anniversary of Frederick's death. Incidentally, the rest of the band was made up of people who regularly and enthusiastically ring both call changes and method and it is great to reflect on how much closer the two communities have become in recent times.

In line with Roger's initial request, we did ring sixty on thirds in memory of Frederick at our practice night that Thursday. In fact, we did it twice – once for each of our learners. Rachel and the Inverness band successfully rang their quarter peal the same evening. The following Sunday evening we assembled at Bishopsteignton for Roger's first quarter peal attempt (at age 79). I'm delighted to say that we rang a first-class quarter peal and that Roger rang wonderfully throughout, a remarkable achievement made even more significant by the occasion and by Rachel's Inverness quarter peal.

Frederick's son, Fred, grandson Roger (today's tenor ringer) and great granddaughter Rachel are, or were, all ringers. Rachel also rang the tenor behind for a quarter peal in memory of Frederick, at Inverness on 18th October.

Unsurprisingly given where they live, Roger and Rachel have very rarely rung together, the only previous occasion being in Inverness. It was great that on a visit to Devon in early December Rachel came to ring with us at Bishopsteignton and also joined Roger ringing at his other tower, Marldon. Most significantly perhaps, although Roger never rang with his father, nor Rachel with her grandfather, the two of them went to Somerset and rang together in Wilton, his home tower of almost half a century.

Ringling at Kentisbeare

Stan Howe, Tower Captain and treble ringer at Kentisbeare for over 60 years died on Easter Sunday 2016 aged 90. Fred Western, tenor ringer for nearly as long, died just four days later aged 93. I often think how apt this was. For all that time, when rising and lowering in peal, which the Kentisbeare ringers put a great deal of time and effort into practising, Stan took the lead and Fred followed, not far behind ! All the early ringers of the other four bells had already passed away.

Fred was my father.

Stan was taught to ring by the headmaster of the Primary School. Fred learnt at Bramford Speke near Exeter, where his father, also a ringer, had the Post Office. Both boys were ringing by the age of twelve. In 1936 Fred's family sold the Post Office and moved to the butchers shop in Kentisbeare. The Westerns had for a long time been butchers, in and around Exeter. When the war came both Stan and Fred were called up. Stan became a "Bevan Boy" and Fred a tank driver in the army.

The war over, and the old village ringing band in decline, a new team of eager, keen young men joined Stan and Fred. It was now the early fifties.

Alongside them were Percy Lane, Walter Radford, Les Leatt, Gordon Cligg, John Summers, Fred Clarke and Geoff Cottey. They rang together regularly and practised weekly. Their improvement began to show in their striking. But one practice night, while ringing, they heard a lot of unusual sounds : bumps, creaks and bangs from the belfry above. They decided to stop. An inspection by a bellhanger was arranged. The bells were found to be unsafe and could not be rung!

In 1958 six re-cast bells, with new headstocks, wheels and bearings, were housed in the original frame. The village had supported the ringers in their task of raising the necessary finance. The tenor, originally 14cwt was now just over 10cwt. The other 5 bells benefitted from the extra bell-metal. So Fred's record of rising the old tenor in seven strokes would now never be broken. (He broke his braces in doing so !)

So this is where I come in. My father taught me to ring in the Autumn of 1964, while at the same time Percy Lane taught his son-in-law, Derek Brake. By the spring we were ringing regularly. Now fate takes a hand. I learnt on the second. Geoff Cottey was the recognised second ringer. In those days we tended to keep to the same bell. One night, under cover of darkness, Geoff eloped with the landlady from the Wyndham Arms, and neither would ever be seen in Kentisbeare again.

The first competition which the band entered was at Kenn on Saturday, July 23rd 1960. As the decade progressed we competed at a great many more. This became a regular, virtually weekly event throughout the summer months. I won my first cup in the junior section at Bow in September 1967. It was about this time that Stan, a highly respected builder in the parish, suffered an injury to his hand. He was actually working at our place making a new shop doorway, when a large piece of cob fell on him. He couldn't ring for several months. He gave me a big card with the changes for "Sixty on Thirds" written on it, and a lot of advice. I was now ringing the treble. I well remember the early days when I had John Summers, now on the 2nd, talking to me all the way as we lowered. Such words as "don't rush it - ring it - don't let it fall - wait for the tenor to come in - pull in now" etc. etc. What a help he was! As were all the others!

The sixties gave way to the seventies and we were ringing as much as ever: especially at competitions. Our neighbouring parish, Plymtree also participated and there was great, friendly rivalry between us. They had such good, steady ringers (all with wonderful names) and would on occasions do better than us. People such as George Knight, Ron Cleal, Bill Lovering, Herb Minifie, Ted Widgery, John Hussey and Roy Cleal. Later, in the nineties, Roy organised many ringing evenings. But we could beat them also, as we often did! Among the top teams at this time were Down St.Mary and West Down. I cannot remember ever beating West Down but we did beat Down St.Mary, but only the once. But on that day Plymtree beat us, coming first and pushing us into second place!

We continued to enter the "Devon" every year. Our best achievement was in 1979 at Bradford, so small a place that it seemed to me to be a church and a farm and nothing else. We came 4th in the major final. Six months later tragedy struck: we lost Percy Lane, dying of a heart attack at only 58. All the ringers and their wives, along with friends and neighbours had spent the evening at his house to celebrate his and Joan's Ruby Wedding Anniversary which everyone enjoyed. He died in the early hours after everyone had left.

And now to the present. We have seven regular, good ringers plus a teenage lad who is learning and a retired paramedic who has just started. Both are keen and progressing well. One of our seven, ringing the tenor, is John Summers recently retired from Southleigh. Yes, a new John Summers ! We also have two lady ringers, who learnt here and live in the village who are happy to ring, not regularly,

Looking back at the sixties and seventies, I feel very fortunate and honoured to have been part of a team with those chaps, all a generation older than me. I didn't realise at the time how competent and skilful they were. I do now ! And it is my wish to pass on to others, those who are learning the art, if I can, just some of what they taught me.

Molly Pratt Celebrates Sixty Years of Ringing

Molly receives her certificate from Barry Osborne

During August 2018 All Saints East Budleigh with Bicton, Bell ringers had cause for celebration. Mrs Molly Pratt achieved a record of ringing at All Saints for over 60 Years. Barry Osborne, President of The Devon Association of Ringers, awarded Molly with a certificate to mark this remarkable achievement. Molly was also awarded a Life Membership to All Saints Bell Ringers by Tower captain Alan Murdoch.

Raleigh. As instructed, I turned up and found I enjoyed the challenge, and have been going ever since.

I have had the opportunity to ring with a few notable ringers including John Quick, Sid Skinner and Jim Smith to name but a few.

I have rung in various Churches including Colaton St Mary and Cockington, where I was made a Guild member.

Molly recounts some highlights of her time ringing -

"When I was a young girl, the then Captain of All Saints came around to our house and told me to be up at the Church tonight at 7pm and learn ringing. I entered what was then a nearly all male environment. My family had a history of ringing with my Grandfather Charlie Ebdon who rang at Colaton

Now at my advanced age I am still ringing and enjoying it with many good friends at All Saints East Budleigh. (still room for improvement though)."

The Three Counties Swing Band at Chardstock

Chardstock Bell Ringers are delighted to have raised £812.47 towards new bell ropes from The Three Counties Swing Band event held on November 10th 2018.

It was a really enjoyable and memorable evening. The hall was decorated to reflect the occasion and the evening started with The Last Post followed by plenty of music and songs that were familiar. Everyone joined in the singing and waving of flags and during the evening others took to the floor to dance.

We did have a raffle and sold teas and coffee with donated delicious cakes during the event and at the interval.

The evening came to a close with The National Anthem and one last piece of music.

The band gave a wonderful performance which we were truly grateful for.

Thank you for advertising the event and placing it in Devon Calls.

Saint Gregory's Church Dawlish

The following piece by John Southall and Bernard Chapman was spotted in the 26th December copy of the Dawlish Gazette, and it is used with their kind permission.

When I first saw this week's photo in the Bernard Chapman Collection I thought: 'I know just the quote to caption this one'... but I thought that it might be a bit corny. Then I thought again so here you are... 'The bells, the bells' straight from The Hunchback of Notre Dame!

The year is 1911 and the new, splendid looking pair of bells are being added to St Gregory's peal of six.

Are these the eight we still hear today?

It's interesting the way that the clappers have been arranged. I can't help wondering if there is some significance to it.

The bells were bought to commemorate the coronation of King George V. There does look to be an inscription on each of them but I can't make it out.

I have contacted the Dawlish Gazette with the following information. The two bells were cast by Mears & Stainbank of London in 1911 to augment the ring to eight. The inscriptions on the bells are:

Treble – MEARS & STAINBANK, FOUNDERS, LONDON.

GOD PRESERVE CHURCH AND KING

22 JUNE 1911.

2nd. KING GEORGE V. CORONATION

22 JUNE 1911.

Devon Church Bell Restoration Fund – (Charity Number 276490)

During 2018 the Fund has again been involved with 18 towers at some stage in their restoration projects. In addition to these, one further tower has requested a grant application form, though it has not as yet been completed and submitted. Although we had previously been contacted by Revelstoke, the cost of re-hanging the bells there was covered by local fund raising and no application was made to us.

We have again, through the Diocese, been carrying out bell inspections alongside churches' routine quinquennial inspections. This year we have carried out inspections at South Brent, Meshaw, Arlington, Coldridge and East Allington. Though not carried out specifically as a fund-raising measure, most churches receiving our reports have nevertheless made significant donations to the Fund.

During the year the usual two meetings were held, in March and November. In addition to these a prolonged series of emails was exchanged in September/October concerning issues with our previous grant offer to Beaford. In June Ian Campbell retired from the committee and was replaced by Janet Deem, her father Brian Coles having previously served on the committee for some twenty years from 1982 until the time of his death. In November John Barnes resigned from the committee and was replaced by James Steer.

The bulk of our financial assets remain in the form of an investment portfolio purchased from the William Smale Bequest, and continue to be managed through the Discretionary Portfolio Service of Cathedral Financial Management Ltd of Exeter. Due to recent volatility in the markets the value of the portfolio has decreased significantly since the previous year end and, at 31st December 2018, stood at £336,270. This represents a decrease of 9.8 per cent across the year, though is still approximately 1 per cent greater than its original purchase value. We are advised that there is no immediate concern with the value or performance of the portfolio, but quarterly income may fluctuate in the short term. The continuing benefit of the investment portfolio is in the dividends received which amounted to £11,956 for the year.

Following receipt of the Smale bequest in 2014 it was decided to increase the level of grants offered from our previous benchmark of about 10 per cent of the cost of a restoration scheme to about 15 per cent. In the past, requests for financial assistance have varied markedly, some years producing few requests and other years producing considerably more. If this trend had continued we would have been able to maintain our offers at the higher level. However, over the past five years both the number of requests received and the cost of those schemes have increased significantly, such that our grant giving has far outstripped our income. We have therefore had to take the decision, at least for the time being, to revert to our former benchmark of 10 per cent, perhaps also setting a 'cap', ie a maximum grant, for any one project.

At the beginning of 2018 the liquid assets of the Fund stood at £59,200. Since that time six grants totalling £38,750 have been paid. £450 went to Highweek towards cleaning down and repainting the bell-frame and supporting grillage; £3,500 to Alphington towards re-profiling and re-bushing the clappers, replacing pulleys, servicing bearings, replacing a tenor gudgeon, and scraping down and repainting the bell-frame; £15,000 to Ugborough towards totally recasting the eight bells and hanging in new fittings in the existing bell-frame; £8,500 to Exeter Cathedral towards replacing the clappers, clapper staples and pulleys, removing the button tops from the treble and second bells, inserting additional support beams under the tenor and ninth bells, and cleaning down and repainting the bell-frame and grillage; £9,000 to Moretonhampstead towards replacing the severely corroded support beams, refurbishing the clappers and staples, servicing the bearings, repairing the wheels, replacing the pulley sheaves and repainting the bell-frame; and £2,300 to East Anstey for re-making the foundation for the upper bell-frame, re-rimming the wheels, and building a new floor under the bells to allow safe maintenance.

Income during the year (excluding that from the investment portfolio) has amounted to £10,453, including £2,000 from the Guild of Devonshire Ringers as agreed at their Annual General Meeting in June, £495 from peal and quarter peal ringers, £585 from personal and miscellaneous donations, £3,479 from the Devon Association of Ringers following their Annual Draw, £1999 from the Guild Branches, £244 from the competition in July organized by Graham Sharland in aid of the BRF, £230 from various individual towers, and £1215 following tower inspections and talks. £206 was received in memory of Cyril Deem of Exmouth. Tax refunds following gift-aided donations and bank interest make up the balance. Administration expenses for the year amounted to £44.

At present the liquid assets of the Fund stand at £43,190.

Grants agreed this year, other than that to East Anstey which has already been paid, include £9,200 to Denbury towards replacing the existing second and tenor bells, adding a sixth bell, tuning all to be in line with the existing listed fourth bell, and re-hanging in the modified existing frame – the ringing room is also to be re-located higher in the tower; £1,500 to Starcross towards re-hanging the two bells in the exposed turret with all new fittings (not subsequently taken up as local fund raising covered the cost); £7,000 to Kingskerswell towards re-hanging the six bells in a new frame with all new fittings – the bells will also be augmented to eight and a new ringing floor will be constructed lower in the tower, these two latter items not being considered in the grant award; £2,200 to Northam for scraping down and repainting the bell-frame, treating all woodwork with preservatives, servicing bearings, and overhauling the clappers; £1,750 to Bradford for replacing the cracked treble side-frame and replacing some of the steels, also overhauling the bearings, clappers and pulleys; £6,000 to Holbeton for turning, tuning and re-hanging the bells in mainly new fittings, also maintenance of the main bell-frame and replacing the support steels of the upper frame; and £1,000 to Broadhempston for creating new trap doors in the tower and inserting new foundation RSJs under the existing frame foundation (this is phase 1 of a larger scheme to retune and rehang the bells).

Assuming that all of the agreed grants are taken up, the uncommitted liquid balance of the Fund stands at £1,840.

Chagford Bellringers - Auntie's retirement

48 Chagford bellringers, families and friends met for their Christmas Dinner on 4th January 2019 at the Fingle Bridge Inn traditionally held on the first Friday of January each year.

As always, a splendid meal was enjoyed in excellent company. It was good to see three of our five teenage and four of our five adult novice ringers present. This is evidence of the determination at the conclusion of the bell refurbishment appeal two years ago to continue "Ringing the Changes" which includes the recruitment, training and retention of new ringers.

However, on this occasion an historical event took place: Julia Endacott announced her retirement as Tower Captain from the end of 2018, a position she has held in succession to her father, Percy Rice, since 1977 – yes, 41 years!! (Mr. Rice himself had been Tower Captain since just after WW2!) During that time, she has led the band in regular and competition ringing and has trained many ringers. However, all were pleased to hear that she has every intention to continue ringing and will also continue to act as Secretary to the Chagford Ringers, a most important task in, for example, liaising with visiting ringers, entering teams for competitions, and organising ringers for occasional services such as weddings and funerals.

The Rector, the Revd. Paul Seaton-Burn, congratulated Julia on her achievement and presented her with a bouquet of flowers.

Jon Bint was announced as Julia's successor as Tower Captain, which met with universal acclaim. Jon learned to handle a bell-rope in 1976, under the guidance of Percy Rice, and (aside from a 3-year sojourn with the Birmingham University Society of Change Ringers, in the '90s) has been a regular member of the Chagford team ever since. On behalf of the ringers he presented Julia with a card the calligraphy having been beautifully drawn by Clare Griffiths, and a small bell made by Whitechapel Handbells, which continues after the closure of the renowned bell foundry in east London. This is engraved "Julia Endacott, Tower Captain Chagford, 1977 – 2018".

Swimbridge

In February 2018 we started teaching learners at Swimbridge and the response has been very heart warming.

On the very first night Janet was there waiting with a smile and we were welcomed with hot drinks, biscuits and cakes. Ever since the group has been growing, and we now have 10 learners. We are hoping to be able to enter three teams into the novice competition.

Our learners (who range from 8 to 70 years old) are at various stages as they started at different times. The learners abilities range from rising in peal, changes and lowering all in place to a young lady doing her Duke of Edinburgh award who started in early January and can rise her bell on her own. The learners are so enthusiastic, it's a pleasure to go there and teach.

We are very lucky to have a dedicated group of ringers who come from all over to help teach, so the learners have a great standard of ringers helping and ringing with them.

The villagers love hearing the bells and since we have started ringing there we have only missed ringing for 5 services. We have decorated the ringing chamber and are waiting for new ropes.

Without the people who help every week it would not be such a big success. Thank you to you all.
